

The Need to Defend Against Cyber-attacks Targeting the C-Suite

Cyber-attacks on CEOs and other C-Suite Executives can quickly paralyze any organization.

Whether it's an online impersonation, credentials being leaked, or confidential information exposed, any can lead to financial and reputational damage to both your brand and the executive.

60%

of IT leaders say C-Suite Executives are the most likely to be targeted by a malicious cyberattack.

78%

of IT Leaders say the C-Suite will Be targeted by phishing attacks.

54%

of executives experienced a phishing attack in the past 12 Months.

84%

of C-level executives say they had been targeted by at least one cyberattack in the past year.

76%

of CEOs admit to bypassing security protocols to get something done faster, sacrificing security for speed.

Constella Executive Protection helps organizations rapidly identify threats targeting your executives to effectively remediate cyber risks before any real damage can occur.

Find out more you by visiting us at www.constellaintelligence.com